Believe In Them Halfway House

A Christian organization located in Louisville Village, Corozal District, providing a safe, structured living environment for individuals transitioning from drug and alcohol rehabilitation, mental health treatment, or incarceration. Our mission is to restore broken lives and strengthen communities by offering a supportive, faith-based environment where residents can maintain sobriety, develop life skills, rebuild healthy relationships, and successfully reintegrate into society with purpose, dignity, and hope.

Jacob's Rehabilitation Farm Center

A nonprofit organization dedicated to bringing hope, recovery, and restoration to men struggling with drug and alcohol addiction. Our core curriculum includes Journey to Freedom, the 12 Steps of Alcoholics Anonymous, Teen Challenge, The Science of Addiction, as well as personal finance and healthy relationship courses. Through a structured six-month residential program, participants receive the tools, support, and guidance needed to overcome addiction, rebuild their lives, and successfully reintegrate into society as productive citizens—offering each man a second chance and the hope of a new tomorrow.

Kolbe Foundation

Through our Journey to Freedom program at the Kolbe Foundation, countless lives have been transformed. More than 7,000 men and women have successfully graduated after completing a life-changing process that restores hope beyond their past mistakes. Participants learn to love, forgive, believe in themselves, and embrace the truth that lasting change is possible. Each graduate leaves with renewed purpose, restored dignity, and the hope of a brighter future.

Bringing Awareness to Healing Communities and how to support their efforts

OUR PROGRAMS & MINISTRY PARTNERS

Restore Small Groups

Journey to Freedom

Restore Small Groups provides support for individuals facing life-controlling challenges through a structured, life-transforming process that recognizes and respects each person's unique journey toward healing and restoration. By partnering with organizations throughout Belize, we extend hope, guidance, and practical support to those seeking lasting change. Our partners include the Kolbe Foundation (Belize Central Prison), Jacob's Rehabilitation Farm Center, the Youth Hostel Foundation, The Hope Center, the Belize Police Department, the Belize Defence Force, and the Leadership Intervention Unit. Together, we are helping individuals overcome obstacles, rebuild their lives, strengthen their communities, and create opportunities for a healthier, more hopeful future.

Reintegration

The Belize Project celebrates the many success stories of individuals who have completed programs through Jacob's Rehabilitation Farm Center, Hedges - Hope is Here, the Kolbe Foundation, secondary schools, and the House of Dorcas. Graduates of Journey to Freedom, Alcoholics Anonymous, Teen Challenge, and The Science of Addiction are rebuilding their lives and successfully reintegrating into society. Their transformed lives stand as powerful testimonies that lasting change is possible through faith, perseverance, and support. As beacons of hope in their families and communities, they demonstrate that, through Christ, lives can be restored and futures can be renewed.

Economic Development & Entrepreneurship

The Belize Project supports men and women as they launch and grow small businesses by providing financial, material, and spiritual assistance. Through this initiative, we help individuals build sustainable livelihoods, achieve financial independence, and create brighter futures for themselves and their families. We currently support a variety of micro-enterprises, including an upholstery business, a tennis shoe business, and a jewelry and craft business. By investing in entrepreneurship, we are helping transform lives, strengthen communities, and create lasting opportunities for success.

Education & Youth Intervention

The Belize Project partners with local schools by providing educational resources, training, and support for both teachers and students. Through the Wilson Reading Program, we are helping improve literacy and strengthen foundational reading skills. Our Youth Journey to Freedom program is delivered in secondary schools, including the Tubal Trade and Vocational Institute, Maud Williams High School, Excelsior High School, and Sadie Vernon Technical High School, equipping students with practical life skills, character development, and hope for the future. In addition, our Journey team trains and annually certifies students, teachers, and counselors to effectively mentor and support individuals facing life's challenges. Together, these initiatives are helping build stronger schools, healthier communities, and brighter futures for the next generation.

House of Dorcas

A Christian organization dedicated to serving women by providing a safe, supportive environment while their cases are being reviewed. Our mission is to offer protection, hope, and practical assistance to vulnerable women as they begin the journey toward healing and restoration. Through Journey to Freedom and other educational and life-skills programs, we empower women to overcome adversity, rebuild their lives, and become confident, productive members of society. By combining faith, compassion, and practical support, we help restore dignity, strengthen families, and create opportunities for a brighter future.
